MESSAGE

UPADI wishes you a Happy New Year for 2011

In our first edition for 2011, UPADI Executive Committee wishes all its member organizations a prosperous new year. This year our goal is to continue the work of our technical committees and gender, anticorruption and young engineer task groups. Special mention should also be made of the start-up of the Business Forum project, which we hope will be well-received by all engineers in the Americas.

In addition, the idea is to promote organizational integration through national and international activities, continue with the Thinking of the Americas project for implementing it in other Latin American countries and strengthen Pan American training for professionals.

Also important is that organizations develop local training and reinforcement projects for their members in order to achieve greater social and economic well-being for their countries. The goal is to get infrastructure policy decision-making to be based on technical criteria.

Thanks to the efforts of all of you, UPADI will continue with its task of developing engineering for the twenty-first century.
