Monthly Newsletter, February 2011

MESSAGE

Meeting Point is UPADI's official means of communication; it aims at keeping engineers from all engineering associations in the Americas informed about academic, cultural, and social activities organized every month, as well as about news from its member organizations, interviews with outstanding Pan American engineers, and the work of the technical committees.

Therefore, the Executive Committee would like to invite all of UPADI's member organizations to send information about the activities they organize nationally and internationally, whether they are interviews with experts, technical information, or training sessions.

The transfer of knowledge among professionals from different countries is very important to improve the development of engineering as a whole and to have better integration with public and private policies geared at improving the quality of life of the Pan American associations. All organizations interested in publishing information in this newsletter should send an e-mail at infoupadi@cfia.or.cr
